INVENTORS AND INVENTIONS ACTIVITY SHEET

Hi Everybody!
I love inventors! Sankofa 82' was my invention. Let's talk about some notable inventors and their inventions. Let's identify some useful, practical, innovative and helpful creations invented by some amazing African Americans!

ALFRED L. CRALLE (1866-1920)

Cralle invented the ice cream scoop. Ladles and spoons were never meant to be the right tool for serving ice cream. He developed a purpose-built tool inspired while he was working at a hotel in Pittsburgh. Nobody knew he was the creative mind behind the design and he did not profit from his idea.

JACK JOHNSON (1878-1946)

Johnson invented the wrench. He invented a wrench that could loosen and tighten fasteners. He was granted a patent for it in 1922. Johnson's invention of the wrench was significant and contributed to the development of modern tools. Jack Johnson was also a professional boxer and became the first African American World Heavyweight Champion.

JOSEPH R. WINTERS (1824-1916)

Winters invented the fire escape ladder. From observing a firefighter struggling to unload a traditional ladder from a wagon during a fire emergency, he developed this ladder by mounting it on a vehicle. His invention was more efficient and safer. Winters' fire escape ladder invention and his contributions to the Underground Railroad helped countless lives and made him a significant figure in African American History.

LLOYD RAY (1860-1940)

Ray invented the dustpan. His invention was patented in 1897. Before the invention of the dustpan, dust and debris on the floor was swept up by hand using a broom or a brush. The dustpan as designed by Ray remains largely unchanged to this day. It has become an essential household tool in homes, offices and commercial establishments worldwide paving the way for future cleaning technology innovations.

BETTY WRIGHT HARRIS (1940-PRESENT)

Harris invented the TATB spot test, which stands for Triaminotrinitrobenzene (a high temperature explosive). During her career, Harris became a leading expert in hazardous water treatment, explosives and environmental remediation. Her most notable invention is the TATB spot test, a method for identifying explosives. She was awarded the patent for this invention in 1984. Harris' test allowed for rapidly detecting explosives in the field, greatly improving safety in various industries.
